Patrick & Carl Portfolio Project

Project Title: Unique Hair and Ink

1. Introduction:

We decided to build a hair and tattoo website for a local shop in MN. Our site features:

- Home page
- About page
- Contact page
- FAQ page
- Artists/Barbers page
- Shop (will add later)

2. Design and Implementation:

- We came up with layout and design by trial and error. We skipped over the wireframe process as felt since we felt this would give us a better hands on learning experience. We used the shop's "current website" as a reference.
- We had some difficulties trying to match the image color and the jumbotron background. We able to figure this out by using the bootstrap website along with additional google searches. We were able to find the correct color.
- Some components we included in our project are:
    - A sticky nav bar for easy navigation on the site.
    - A login modal so new/recurring customers can book appointments.
    - A carousel on the home page because we felt it would attract a customers attention meanwhile we could show awards the shop has won, artists that work at the shop along with the front of the actual shop.
    - An accordion on our artists page because it gives the customer more interaction in the website. Inside of our accordion we chose to include the name of the employee and some additional information about that artist/barber and what kind of work they perform and performed.
    - We also decided to add an accordion for the shops hours of operation. When

3. Conclusions:

- We personally learned a lot from this project. We were both pretty new to bootstrap so starting this project from scratch we a great learning experience for us. We learned how to:
    - Add a carousel to a web page and include different images.
    - Add an accordion and when it might be a good time to add one.
    - Space and align different wording and images.
    - How to work in as a team and use GitHub to see our changes.
    - How explore and add new fonts and colors.
    - How to navigate different resources to find answers to coding problems and syntax.

- Our best features currently on our project are the carousel and accordion that provides photos and information about the employees. We also feel that the sticky nav bar is a great component to have on our page so customers can easily navigate where they need to go. We plan on doing a lot more to our website such as adding in a shop area for customers to buy different hair and tattoo products.

- We don't have any choices that we would have done differently, but we both would like to add some JavaScript and more interaction to this website.
